Recology South Valley...
where community is the first priority

Julie Alter and Phil Couchee of Recology South Valley are part of the team that provide important services to residents and businesses from tailoring recycling programs to providing resource information on reducing waste streams.

With a commitment to quality service, customer satisfaction, and preservation of the environment, Recology South Valley provides comprehensive solid waste management and recycling services to the businesses and residents of the City of Gilroy. But there is so much more to understand about Gilroy's garbage and recycling service provider. At Recology South Valley the belief is that community involvement is not an option, but a responsibility. To them, business success is linked directly to the economic health and quality of life by providing good jobs, strengthening the local economy, and working with community partners to help resolve social issues.

Recology South Valley has programs that honor good corporate citizens such as becoming a "Recologist" where employees are trained, certified and then recognized for their volunteerism. Throughout the year employees can be nominated to become a "ROC" star (Recology Owners Commitment) for effort above and beyond their normal job scope. Employee pride emanates from inside and outside the office building on Pacheco Pass Highway with the neatly aligned rows of gleaming white trucks, clean grounds, and smiling employees -- many who have been with the company for over 20 years. It is evident that this employee-owned company values relationships.

Recology also sponsors a food drive each fall when the community can partner in the giving program by stacking bags of canned or dry goods for collection. The food collected is turned over to Second Harvest Food Bank of Santa Clara for sorting and then returned to organizations in Gilroy like St. Joseph's Family Center. Through community and employee involvement, Recology is making a world of difference.

Everyone has a responsibility to reduce greenhouse gas emissions from all sources and Recology South Valley will help you take the proper steps by tailoring a unique recycling program that meets the specific needs of residents or businesses. Cardboard dumpsters and single stream recycling cans are available for business or multi-family use.
